Town Meeting June 25

MILLBURY - A Special Town meeting will be held on June 25 at 7 p.m. at Millbury High School to act on a five article warrant. The meeting was scheduled primarily to deal with a projected $200,000 cut in local aid.

ARTICLE 1 asks if the Town will vote to reconsider the various sums appropriated under Article 4 of the 1991 Annual Town Meeting held on May 7, 1991. Article 4 included funds to defray town charges for street lighting, salaries, maintenance of the library, observance of Memorial and Veterans' Day, care and improvements of cemeteries, care of fire alarms, use of the Tree Warden, use of the Veterans' Service, salaries of fire and police departments, retirement pensions, and town engineer.

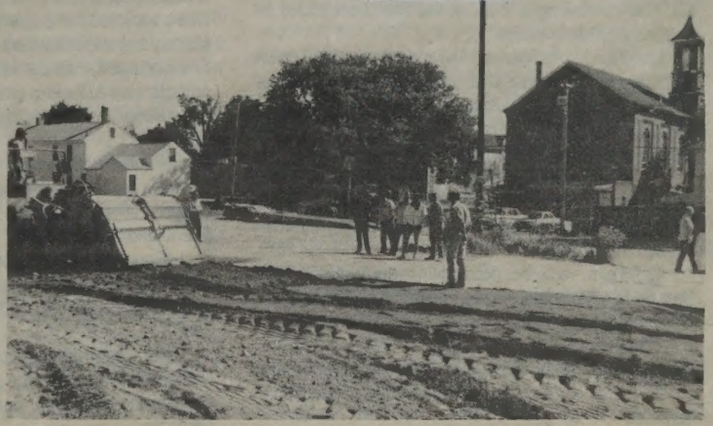
ARTICLE 2 seeks reconsideration of the action taken under Article 8 of the May 7, 1991 town meeting. That article approved $100,000 to be raised and appropriated to provide for extraordinary or unforeseen expenditures under the provision of Chapter 40, Section 6 of Mass. General Laws, to be known as the Reserve Fund.

ARTICLE 3 seeks reconsideration of action taken under Article 63 of the May 7 town meeting which voted that $50,000 be raised and appropriated, that $20,000 be transferred from Article 8 of the 1990 Annual Town Meeting, and that $110,000 be transferred from the Stabilization Account for the purchase and installation of street lights throughout the Town to replace existing rental units and to purchase power at a reduced rate.

ARTICLE 4 seeks a transfer of $3,885 from Fiscal 1991-sewerage-out of town fees account (septage-Worcester) to fiscal 1991 sewerage - supplies and materials account.

ARTICLE 5 was petitioned by voters and asks that the town vote to appropriate a sum of money for the cost of construction of sewerage systems and appurtenant works in the Riverlin Street-MacArthur Drive and Millbury Avenue-Wheelock Avenue areas.

A Team Effort



MILLBURY - Work is progressing on the first phase of paving the municipal parking lot off Elm Street. A final coat will be laid after July 1. Funds for the project were obtained through a donation from Lakeside Realty Trust and by town meeting appropriation. The town was unable to obtain a requested state grant for the project. According to Town Planner Dave Hulseberg, a team effort by Highway Department personnel using in-house technical expertise resulted in the project costing one half of the projected cost for outside work. Additional monies will be donated for landscaping by local businesses.

The Paul Revere Saga: Chapter Nine

(This is the ninth in a series of articles dealing with the problems that have plagued the Paul Revere Condominiums off Grafton Street since the project first came before the Millbury Planning Board in 1983.)

By Andree A. Belisle

MILLBURY - On OCTOBER 25, 1983, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS held a brief discussion on the Paul Revere Village proposal. Commission members at that time were George Buron, Leo Bachant, and Richard Prue. The following quotation is from the minutes of that meeting as taken by Evelyn Devoe, secretary.

"Mr. Bachant said he noticed in the paper that one of the conditions this was approved under is sewer lines be installed. Mr. Buron said he was not aware of this. It was agreed that Mrs. Devoe contact Allan Morgenroth (the commission's consultant), requesting he view this site if necessary for submittal of elevations for said proposed sewer lines. Mrs. Devoe said we still have not seen any plans, but Sewer Commissioners said they realize this, but once the plans are submitted we have to be ready with a response within 45 days, so Mr. Morgenroth had better start working on this."

On NOVEMBER 1, 1983, The SEWER COMMISSIONERS again discussed the condominium project:

"Mrs. Devoe told Sewer Commissioners that per phone, Allan Morgenroth on 10/26/83 regarding their request at last week's meeting of submittal of elevations for the above referenced proposed sewers, this cannot be done until Morgenroth & Assoc., Inc. see a copy of the plans to see what the layout of this is. Mrs. Devoe said she mentioned this to Mr. Keegan, Town Planner, and he doesn't have the plans showing utilities yet, but will submit a copy when he gets them. Mr. Keegan said nothing will be done by the contractor until the plans are approved by the Sewer Department."

On NOVEMBER 10, 1983, Anthony Mangano, Jr., Braney Road, was listed as the plaintiff in a complaint filed in Superior Court against Planning Board members Mary Anne Dube, Donald Markey, Philip Dumas, Walter Tebo, James F. Fitzpatrick and Paul Aubrey; Forrow Builders, Inc., and Exilda Morin, owner of the Grafton Street property.

The suit alleged that the Planning Board's decision to grant the Special Permit for the condominiums exceeded the authority of the Board in that:

"The special permit allows the building of 130 condominium dwelling units in a Suburban District when the By-Law states that the purpose of a Suburban District is to provide low and moderate density housing in this zone.

"The special permit allows the construction of 35 multi-family dwellings on this single lot when the by-law permits only one multi-family dwelling per lot.

"The special permit allows the construction of 35 buildings on this single lot when the by-law forbids more than one building per lot when, as here, access for each is not functionally equivalent to that required under the Subdivision Regulations. In addition, by failing to obtain the required determination beforehand from the building inspector, the Board exceeded its authority.

"The special permit was in error as a matter of law in its interpretation of the by-law when it found that the 'Open Space Community' as set forth in Section 44 of the by-law was inapplicable to the present project and was optional to the Board and/or the developer, since chapter 44 was applicable and was not optional.

"The special permit was in error as a matter of law in its finding that there exists no foreseeable occurrences that would, as a result of the granting of this special permit, cause any substantial harm to the neighborhood or derogation from the intent of the by-law since the density far exceeds that stated and intended by the bylaw.

"The special permit was in error as a matter of law when it found that the proposed project is in conformity with the stated intent of the Suburban Zoning District as to general density on the basis that i) the general density would be similar to that of an allowable subdivision in terms of persons per acre and ii) the density is far less than the maximum allowed for a multi-family project in a Suburban District in that these statements are incorrect and, if correct, are not a legally tenable basis for the finding."

The suit also alleged that the special permit was in error in the calculation of the number of dwelling units allowable under Chapter 23.3, "since 130 units are not permissible based upon gross land area, minimum lot area marshy, swampy land or land under water nine months or more, as well as the mathematical calculations under Chapter 23.3."

The complaint also charged that the board refused to discuss, deliberate or state the reasons for its decision after being requested to do so by numerous citizens attending the October 20, 1983 meeting (see Millbury-Sutton Chronicle June 6, 1991). "As a result," the complaint read, "the Board violated G.L. c. 39, Section 23B in that it failed to discuss and deliberate its decision at a public meeting and discussed and deliberated its decision at a time and place other than at the public meeting of October 20, 1983."

The suit asked that the planning board's decision be annulled on the basis that it violated Mass. General Laws and the town's zoning bylaws.

At the NOVEMBER 15, 1983 SEWER COMMISSION meeting, the minutes on the condominiums read as follows:

"Mrs. Devoe said a pump station will be required on Grafton Street just this side of the Millbury-Grafton town line, and since Forrow Builders, Inc. now owns all the land on the northerly side where he is planning to build condominiums, that Allan Morgenroth felt maybe we should try and obtain the parcel of land to the east of the Valentino property, which would be the last parcel of land in Millbury on the southerly side. Mr. Lavallee (Lavallee Surveying Co. of Sutton) said he has just finished doing survey work on this, and within the next few days Forrow Builders Inc. will own all of this land abutting the Valentino property as well. He suggested Sewer Commissioners meet with Forrow Builders Inc. to discuss obtaining a piece of this land on the northerly side, as he felt that would be the better place for a pump station."

At the NOVEMBER, 28, 1983 PLANNING BOARD meeting, Chairman Jim Fitzpatrick announced that the board members had received a copy of the litigation filed by Mangano. Planning Board member Donald Markey then moved that the board go into executive session to discuss the litigation. The minutes of that meeting, as taken by then Board Secretary Mary Clark, read as follows:

Compromise Reached on Abatement

By Lawrence Moore

SUTTON - Chair David Strieby opened the June 11 Selectmen's meeting at 7:35 p.m. Mike Chizy, Mary K. Connor, Rick LaBonte and Town Administrator Dexter Blois were present.

Sewer Privilege Fee

Dana Gravison, a local builder, appeared before the board to request an abatement of a sewer privilege fee for his proposed subdivision entitled Mark's Way. He repeated that his original application for an abatement from the Sewer Commission was dated March 15, 1988. He said it was not until April 8, 1989 that the Sewer Commission began to work with him on specifics. (The delay was caused because at the time it appeared that Sutton had exceeded the gallonage the Millbury sewerage treatment plant had contracted to accept.) Gravison maintained that while he was being delayed, other projects were allowed to proceed. I've been waiting, waiting and waiting," he said, "then the new law came in and I got hit with it."

LaBonte asked if the fee structure was in place when he originally applied. Answering "no", Gravison said the town delayed him while the fees, by town meeting, increased to $1200 and then to $2500.

LaBonte asked Blois, "Did the town delay Gravison?"

Blois answered "no." Addressing the same question to the sewer commission, LaBonte received the same reply, "no."

Chizy asked if the sewer commissioners are meeting with Millbury officials to have the gallonage increased. The sewer Commission said "yes, but on paper we were over on gallonage."

When Gravison cited permits that were issued, both Sewer Commissioners Ezold and Linder said they had already been included in the allowed gallonage. They also said they attempted to rescind other permits because of excess gallonage.

Labonte then said, "If Gravison is correct, the town delayed him." While acknowledging that the fees were due at "hook-up," he said that based on the original by-law the first developer (which would have been Gravison) paid no hook-up fee, and as time passed the fee increased to $2500.

Chizy said the Board of Selectmen should not be involved in the workings of the Sewer Commission. "They studied the problem and made a decision," he said. "I agree with that decision." He then moved to back the Sewer Commission. Strieby seconded for purposes of discussion.

Strieby said to Gravison, "Since you started on one by-law, and are now under another, I feel some relief is due." He asked Blois if there was a chance a precedent could harm the town.

Both Blois and the Sewer Commissioners said no other subdivisions were in similar circumstances and that two other individuals had already been granted waivers.

Chizy argued that not supporting town boards and commissions could open up a can of worms.

The vote on the motion to back the Sewer Commission was 1-2, Chizy in favor, Strieby and LaBonte opposed. Connor abstained from discussion and voting because of her personal involvement with Polyvinyl Films of Sutton which had been mentioned in previous discussions.

LaBonte then moved to abate one half the fee, or $1250, per lot. LaBonte and Strieby voted yes, Connor and Chizy abstained. The abatement was granted.

Strieby said "I hope the Sewer Commission understands."

Linder replied, "I understand the situation a small businessman is caught in. As far as we are concerned, the net result is fine."

Purgatory Problem

At the request of LaBonte, recent accidents at Purgatory were on the agenda. Blois reported he had been in touch with

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Non-Union Personnel Ask for Equal Treatment

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The June 11 selectmen's meeting began at 7 p.m. with all members present.

Jug Handle

Selectman Chair Jude Cristo reported that Anthony Gallo, developer of the Latti Farm Industrial Park, is ready to purchase private property on Route 20 that is required for a jug handle across from the park entrance. Cristo also said Gallo indicated that there are environmental concerns that may hold up the Route 146/90/20 Interchange project.

Insurance Premiums

The board listened to a request from Town Planner Dave Hulseberg that non-union personnel be returned a 10% deduction in their salaries for insurance premiums as were union personnel. He said that when he applied for his position he was told he would receive the same benefits as union personnel.

Cristo replied that while he sympathized with the non-union employees, the matter was not that simple. He said the legislature has said such deductions can be made. "The statute does not allow us to pay at this time," Cristo said.

Cristo explained that employees in Local 495 took the issue to arbitration, won, and were paid back for their 10% deductions. "Only they are exempt from the 10% deduction," he said.

Police Chief Ron Stokowski noted that as a matter of past practice, benefits for non-union personnel have always been the same as those received by union personnel.

Cristo suggested that they write to their state legislators. "What do you want?" he asked. "We can't pay you the 10%."

Hulseberg replied, "Adjust our salaries. We are asking you to look at ways to address this."

Cristo said a wage differential would not rectify the situation since different people get different salaries. He told Hulseberg and Stokowski to prepare a formal proposal with calculations on the cost.

Hulseberg said the board can obtain that information through the Treasurer's office.

"That's not our responsibility," Selectmen Gerry Bleau replied.

Hulseberg said that middle management is being sent the wrong message. He again mentioned his verbal commitment to equal benefits when hired by the Planning Board.

Cristo said the board wasn't picking on the people in middle management nor was he suggesting that unionizing was the way to go. "The state legislature has put us in this position," he said.

Hulseberg said it appears that the board is taking the avenue of least resistance. "You are pointing the finger back to the legislature," he said. "We are looking for a sign from you to look at this as a real issue."

Cristo asked those concerned to put something together so the board can look at something concrete and assess the impact of the situation.

Medical Insurance

The board met with Elizabeth Maloney, a spokesperson for retirees who see problems with proposed changes they face relative to Blue Cross/Blue Shield dropping the town's coverage for lack of sufficient enrollment.

Maloney said the town's insurance advisor has not answered her questions. She said she was most concerned with those retirees living out of town as well as those with present health problems.

Selectman Roland Lachance said that should be the town's first priority and that the board will go a long way to protect their interests.

The board voted 5-0 to support the retirees and come up with a plan compatible with what they have now.

Miscellaneous

- The board met with Police Chief Ron Stokowski and liquor license holders to review the keg policy recently approved by the board. The policy took effect June 15th. The tags will be available from the town for license holders.

- The board received a request from Edwin Quinlan for an increase in the limit of cars at Custom Auto Reconditioning Sales on North Main Street from 12 to 20 cars. The request was tabled until Quinlan comes before the board. Bleau suggested that abutters be notified.

Executive Session

At 8:15 the board moved to executive session to discuss pending litigation against the town relative to issues surrounding Paul Revere Village. Present for the session were Town Counsel Karen Kelley and Attorney Frank Buendo (representing Hartford Insurance), board of health members, and Town Planner David Hulseberg.

Personnel Board

Personnel Board (PB) members and several mid-management level employees were present to continue a discussion begun at the last board meeting when the PB sought support from the selectmen for authority to recommend raises. One of the main concerns the PB expressed at the last meeting was that some town employees who did not receive a recommendation for a proposed raise questioned the authority of the PB to recommend raises.

Personnel Board Chairman Kevin Barrett reviewed his request for the board's support based upon past practice, and submitted a list of the main tasks the personnel board should perform:

1. set personnel procedures and policies for the town.
2. mediate differences between town employees and town management for both union and non-union employees.
3. set up and review a performance evaluation process for all non-elected officials.
4. approve merit pay increases based on the performance evaluation and within the budgets approved at town meeting.
5. negotiate contracts with the unions on behalf of the town.
6. represent the employee to the town and the town to the employee insuring that both the townspeople and town employees are treated fairly and equitably.

7. mediate the union grievance process for the town.

Cristo said it was discussed that the personnel board would also work on a classification and administration plan for the next annual town meeting. He then said that on the matter pertaining to pay raises, department heads recommend a percentage for a raise to the Finance Committee who recommend a total salary amount at town meeting. He said the personnel board would have the ability to determine the final percentage.

Cristo asked former Personnel Board Chairman Craig Coppola to respond to what was stated.

"That's the way it should be done," Coppola replied. "That's not the way it has always happened in the past." He went on to say that when he was on the personnel board, the board made recommendations for raises, some of which were changed up or down by the finance committee. The personnel board had made recommendations before town meeting. "We decided our's (recommendations)," he said, "others changed it."

Stokowski said that he and others who are scheduled to receive raises in the new fiscal year have been told that the treasurer will not pay the raises until the issue is settled.

Bleau said he was concerned with giving too much authority to a three member board. He suggested a five member board and said that would result in fewer problems with quorums and would provide for more opinions.

Stokowski said he left the town meeting with a raise. He suggested that the town wait until next year and look at the issues since the new fiscal year begins in two weeks.

Barrett asked if the PB has the authority to approve, disapprove, and set raises for non-union personnel.

Cristo said the question is whether one is talking about before or after the town meeting.

Hulseberg referred to a letter to legal counsel indicating there would be a basis if an administration plan was in place. "There is not (one in place)," he said. He then referred to past practices as a legal basis for the personnel board's ability to act. He said that in looking at the minutes of the personnel board meetings over the past three years, there is no evidence of past practice.

Cristo said he supports what the personnel board is trying to do and said they will be working on a classification and administration plan.

Barrett said his board will not do half a job. "If we do a plan, then have no powers," he said, "we will not be a part of such a paper push." He said if his committee completes a plan and it is then shot down at town meeting, it will be back to politics with some getting their raise through politics. Barrett said all parities should get a fair shake, including the taxpayers.

Personnel Board member Michael Ragaini said it was suggested that politics be removed from the issue next year. "We want to do it this year," he said. "Politics is going on now. Maybe we are taking on the big boys. It's there (politics), all over the place." He said the personnel board needs to have integrity when it comes to negotiations. "Three people want to do the job and are being criticized," he said.

Gauthier said the personnel board should not be concerned with monies but should focus on recommendations.

Cristo said if there are not enough monies the town can go back to union personnel. "We do not want non-union personnel carrying the burden," he said. He said the finance committee deals with the availability of funds.

Barrett said that raises can't be approved that are greater than the budget.

Coppola said the Personnel Board recommends percentages for raises. "Someone has to keep an eye on what the finance committee might do. Some get raises, some don't; it's not right," he said. "There is a need for checks and balances."

Ragaini said a member of the board of selectmen came into the personnel board's office with an employee to express concerns relative to a raise.

Selectman Donald Gauthier acknowledged that he was the board member Ragaini referred to.

Lachance told Ragaini that Gauthier was acting on his own and not as a representative of the board.

An agreement was reached that the personnel board will work on setting up a classification/administration plan and performance evaluation plan and let things go as they are until next year.

Dorothy Manor Account

A letter from School Committee Chairman Chet Hanratty was received, taking exception to an action by the finance committee, upon a recommendation from the board of selectmen, to withdraw $10,000 from the Dorothy Manor School revolving account without first discussing it with the school committee. Hanratty said the authority for releasing the funds rests solely with the school committee.

Cristo said it was his understanding that Administrative Assistant Earl Chase called Business Manager Sue Pierce asking if there were any monies available to help in making up a $200,000 loss is local aid funds and Pierce said $10,000 was available in the Dorothy Manor account.

Don Stoddard, acting Director of DEM who said more signs, warnings and a more prominent "telephone" sign were in the works, but not yet ready.

LaBonte complimented the rangers on duty but said, "The State has an obligation to keep people there after 5 p.m. Sutton ties up its resources whenever there is an accident. The state's obligation is to fund the park. Supervision is needed; we've had four accidents in a few weeks." He suggested a parking fee, as at the Manchaug boat ramp, to cover the cost of supervision.

Blois said the state can charge a fee, but with a public road, and no gate, it would be difficult to do.

The board voted to ask t he state to take another look at the chasm.

Camp Marion

Ed Wrenn, Chair of the Recreation Committee, gave an update on Camp Marion as a prologue to a fee proposal. He said the 50% cut in the committee's budget has prevented much site work and some members of the committee have serious concerns for public safety. While the swimming lesson program could go on, Wrenn said the committee was not in agreement that the facility should be open to the public.

Commission member Neil Newton said the drainage ditches are a safety hazard. "They are too deep, full of branches, and full of rocks," he said. "We have funds for the beach only, life guards and a gatekeeper."

Commission member Frank Reno remarked, "30 yards away, the children are out of sight. It's not safe to open."

"We tried to do too much, too fast, with too little resources," Wrenn said. "With volunteer help, things are not happening fast enough. We need a major interdepartmental town effort. If you want the beach to open, we need commitment."

"If you open swimming," Connor said, "that's commendable. You did try to do too much. We're in it together, but we can't hire more people."

Blois and the Committee will revisit the camp in order to plan a course of action.

The following proposed regulations were then distributed to the Board. It was agreed to study the proposal in preparation for a vote next week: 1. No children under the age of 14 years on the grounds without the supervision of an adult; 2. No alcohol or drugs; 3. No glass containers; 4. No animals; 5. The Town Beach to be open for the period of July 8 through August 25, during the hours of 2:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.; 6. Fees - $40.00 seasonal parking fee, $ 5.00 daily per car w/o seasonal parking pass, $ 1.00 per walk-in and/or bike-in; 7. Entry fees non-refundable; 8. Hand-stamp required for re-admittance; 9. Rules of waterfront/employees to be adhered to; 10. Swimming only with lifeguards on duty and within designated areas ; 11. Parking within designated areas only.

An occasionally heated discussion followed on budgets, fees, expenses, estimates, current and future development needs, and the basic rationale for the purchase of Camp Marion.

Strieby asked whether the $40 seasonal parking fee would cover expenses and what the break-even point would be.

Frank Reno said, as did others as the debate continued, "the purchase was sold to the town on the basis that the camp would become self-sufficient. If we collect $30,000 and spend $30,000, we won't be able to improve the facility."

Strieby agreed that the Committee guaranteed that no tax dollars would be requested.

Connor disagreed with the recreation concept, saying many people told her they supported the purchase because it preserved open space.

LaBonte agreed with the "no tax dollar" promise, but said "If you only get swimming fees, it will deteriorate. The vast majority expect it will develop because of user fees."

Connor, returning to the need for a budget, said, "We have no idea on what the fees are based. We need to see what the expenses are. Also, the law says you cannot use fee money for improvements."

Wrenn replied that the fees will pay for lifeguards, trash removal, gate supervision, and a porta-pott.

Blois rephrased the budget request saying, "project your income and expenses. Make a crystal ball projection."

Chizy added, "We know we have no track record, but we have to start somewhere, even with a guesstimate."

An expense and income statement will be provided.

Town Insurance

Sealed bids for the town's liability insurance, in response to a 40 page bid specification characterized by one of the agencies as "the best of any town," were opened June 7. Preparing and submitting the bids was defined by Blois as "a tedious and difficult process."

The successful bidders, items covered, and the cost are as follows:

A. Braley & Wellington - Special Multi-peril package policy: boiler and pressure vessels, public employees faithful performance blanket bond, automobile insurance, optional umbrella liability, Total price = $75,691.

B. MIIA (MMA Group): law enforcement liability, public officials liability, school board legal liability, Total price = $20,891.

C. Benjamin Agency: police dept accident, fire dept accident, fire dept errors & omissions, public officials bonds, Total price = $11,686

Towing Bids

Bids for primary and backup towing for one year were as follows:

A. Bourget Brothers Garage, Inc. $1,000 per year
B. Lemieux's, Inc. 10% of paid tows
C. J.D. Bousquet & Sons, Inc. $7.50 - $10.00 per tow
D. Brian's Auto Service, incomplete bid

Based on the number of tows in the past 12 months, the highest revenue to the town would be under Bousquet's bid. Lemieux would not accept the backup selection. Blois recommended Bousquet for primary towing and Bourget for backup towing. His recommendation was accepted unanimously.

Executive Session

At 10:15 p.m. the Board voted to go into Executive Session to discuss litigation.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

The American Cancer Society held a seminar for those of us who care for people, on the topic of whether or not to tell people that they have cancer. It seemed quite simple to me as the general physicians were reluctant to tell and the specialists would tell. Well, why wouldn't they? By the time you go to a specialist you must suspect that something is wrong.

I have had to minister to both types of situations. One case in particular was so secretive that we had to sneak off into a side room to talk about the patient and her situation, and we couldn't even get help from the American Cancer Society for her as that would be a giveaway as well. After my father died, we were told that he had had cancer for over six years but was never told.

There was another family who was very open about their cancer situation with both a grandfather and a grandson. In both instances we were able to bring a most comforting and eternally meaningful ministry to them all. I like the H-O-W acrostic of Alcoholics Anonymous in dealing with their problem: Honest, Open, and Willing.

In my own situation with cancer, it has been very meaningful to give full disclosure. So many people have contacted me with examples of others who have faced the same situation with much healing success. Those of you who have done so are most appreciated, and every scrap of information is most helpful. There are so many variables that have to be taken into consideration in choosing the cure most desirable. My age, my health, my personal preferences, my lifestyle, my family, my friends, my career, and ultimately, my own spiritual journey in facing life and death. "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain."

Above all, I hold dearly those who are praying for me. I received a letter from a church in Maine with the signatures of all who had attended their prayer meeting. A prayer group here in town sent me a cloth that had been anointed with oil and prayed over. A fellow pastor assures me that I am on his nine o'clock prayer list. Apparently there is a pastor who has the gift of healing. One of my parishioners wrote to him, and he wrote me and is willing to come with a special prayer service for me. And then there are so many who just in greetings on the street assure me of their prayers. To each and every one of you, a most hearty "Thank You," and God bless you all auspiciously in your time before Him in prayer. Amen.

"Mr. J. Fitzpatrick stated that since they were all served with papers it would be wise to look at the minutes of the meetings to see when discussion had first taken place regarding Paul Revere Townhouses. The first meeting that Paul Revere Townhouses were discussed was March 14, 1983. Mr. J. Fitzpatrick suggested that Mr. W. Keegan make copies of all the minutes and send them to Atty. Weinberg (town counsel).

"Mr. J. Fitzpatrick stated that Atty. O'Connell (Forrow Builders Inc. attorney) is asking for a deposition which will be held on Friday, December 2, where he will ask a lot of questions of the plaintiff. He has the right to ask these questions in order to gain information in the preparation of his case. Mr. W. Keegan stated that the date of the trial is January 9, 1984. Forrow Builders has petitioned the Court for a speedy trial.

"Mr. J. Fitzpatrick stated that the suit alleges that the Board refused to discuss, deliberate and explain the reason for their voting and failed to deliberate their decision.

"Mr. J. Fitzpatrick urged the Board members to read the names on the petition. Mr. P. Aubrey will take the petition tonight, and then give it to Mr. Markey.

"Atty. Weinberg is looking over all the material that Mr. W. Keegan has already given him and he will be at the deposition on Friday."

The executive session ran from 10:30 to 10:55 p.m.

On DECEMBER 19, 1983 the PLANNING BOARD again voted to go into Executive Session to discuss the pending litigation. The session lasted some 20 minutes. The minutes of that meeting read as follows:

"Due to the fact that Mr. Markey, Ms. Dube and Mr. Keegan had been summoned to attend a deposition at Atty. Leader's office (Leader was Mangano's attorney), discussion followed regarding pending litigation. Atty. Weinberg, Town Counsel, had appeared with the members during the depositions, as well as Atty. Bassett representing Forrow Builders.

"Mr. W. Keegan stated that the court date has been scheduled for January 9, 1984. Mr. J. Fitzpatrick and Mr. P. Dumas are scheduled for depositions at Atty. Leader's office on December 20.

"Discussion followed regarding the fact that Mr. Keegan had presented all necessary papers to Atty. Weinberg, including all minutes in which Paul Revere Townhouses were discussed."

On JANUARY 9, 1984, the PLANNING BOARD again voted to go into Executive Session to discuss the pending litigation. Those minutes could not be found either by the Town Clerk's office or in the Planning Board's file on the project.

On JANUARY 23, 1984, the PLANNING BOARD again went into Executive Session to discuss the pending litigation. The session lasted from 10:15 to 10:35 and the minutes read as follows:

"Discussion followed regarding the fact that Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Keegan had been at the Court hearing on January 9th-10th that Atty. Mirick represented the developer.

"The questions raised were regarding how the Board had deliberated, how the Board voted in making their decision regarding the density and the open space bylaw. Mr. J. Fitzpatrick stated that it was a four day trial. He stated that several residents from the Braney Road area were in court.

"The board is now waiting for a decision."

On FEBRUARY 17, 1984, Judge Paul Rutledge rendered his judgement, affirming the decision of the Planning Board and dismissing the complaints of the plaintiff.

In his findings, Rutledge ruled that Section 23.3 of the Millbury Zoning Bylaw, read together with Section 32.6, permitted the construction of more than one multi-family dwelling on a lot in a Suburban District if each structure would be served by access equivalent to that required under the rules and regulations regarding subdivisions.

"Section 23.3 of the Millbury Zoning Bylaws sets forth the density requirements for the construction of multi-family structures in a Suburban District. That section permits the construction of 130 units on a parcel with a total area of approximately 64 acres, even excluding from the calculations the 8.9 acres of the parcel which are wetlands."

Rutledge also ruled that the Planning Board "considered carefully" every material objection or concern which was raised concerning the proposed development.

The judge's ruling also stated, "An amendment to a zoning by-law takes effect upon vote of the Town meeting, provided that the amendment is not thereafter disapproved by the Attorney General. The amendment to Section 32.6 of the Millbury Zoning By-laws took effect on June 4, 1983, and applies to Forrow's application which was filed on June 29, 1983."

[Section 32.6 of the Zoning Bylaws referred to by Rutledge read as follows prior to being amended on June 29, 1983:

"Not more than one single-family dwelling shall be erected on a lot. Not more than one other principal building shall be erected on a lot unless each such building is served by access determined by the building inspector to be functionally equivalent to that required for separate lots by the Planning Board under its Subdivision Regulations."

Section 32.6, following the Planning Board's amendment which was accepted at the June 29, 1983 town meeting, now reads as follows:

"No more than one (1) residential structure shall be erected on any lot, except that more than one (1) multifamily structure may be placed on a lot if the Planning Board, in its deliberations on an application for a special permit for multifamily dwellings under Section 14.ii(a), determines that each such multifamily structure will be served by access equivalent to that required for single- or two-family structures on separate lots under the rules and regulations governing the subdivision of land in Millbury, Massachusetts. Not more than one (1) principal nonresidential structure shall be erected on a lot unless each such structure is served by access deter-

Ad Hoc Committee to be Formed

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The June 12 School Committee meeting convened at 7:30 p.m. High School Principal Dan Carmody was present to discuss class sizes at the High School.

Carmody said he had no accurate figures for all the classes for next year. He asked the committee to make a decision tonight on whether they would allow Spanish III "to fly" since there are only eight students signed up. There is a Spanish II class of 16, but Carmody said the teacher, who would be new to spanish, expressed some reservations with combining Spanish II and III. Carmody said it would be a chore even for an experienced teacher.

The committee voted to retain the class of eight students on a 4-0 vote.

Carmody then said he has called in students who have enrolled in three different industrial arts classes and asked if they would choose one of the three classes. All 15 students chose woodworking which would be a combined class of wood I and II. He recommended that the committee go along with this arrangement as it is difficult to supply courses for lower level students because the schedule is so tight. The committee took no formal action on the industrial arts question, opting to wait for more information.

Carmody then asked consideration for making another section in the remedial reading class which presently offers three classes. He said a 4th section would bring the number down from 16 per class to 11 or 12 per class. He also said that Spanish would be a new assignment for the teacher who would be handling the reading and she considers 16 students too difficult.

Committeewoman Jane Pojani said she would rather not add another section as other teachers will then come forward for smaller classes.

Hanratty and Committeeman Ed Wilczynski said they were in support of the added section since reading is of great importance, especially for the low level child.

Pojani expressed concern with the possibility of adding more money to the budget.

Hanratty said it would require less than $4,0000.

Sylvia said with two resignations coming up tonight, monies from the professional salaries account would be available to cover that.

Pojani asked if there were any teachers certified in reading at the high school who presently are not teaching a full load.

Carmody replied that everyone will have five subjects next year, except Dave Wilbur who will have four and Mrs. Dupont who will have three, as she has in the past, to work on computers.

The committee voted to approve the request for a 4th section of reading at the high school.

Academic Requirements

The committee then addressed the issue of whether academic requirements should be in place for participation in extra curricular activities at the High School, similar to eligibility requirements for athletics. Carmody said consideration could be given for eligibility requirements for students in leadership roles in some activities, but for others, such as SAAD, students should be allowed to participate without such requirements.

Hanratty suggested that Carmody review the issue. The requirements, if adopted, would not take effect until September 1992.

Windle Field Parking Lot

Business Manager Sue Pierce reported that the parking lot outside the area of the tennis courts at Windle Field has been paved by Granger Lynch. The paving was paid for by donations of $2500 from Little League and $1000 from the Lions Club. The parking area is not under the lease agreement with Windle and the Town.

Pierce said she was presently in the process of setting a price for a post and chain link fence for the area.

Hanratty then noted that the school committee is not supposed to spend any monies for improvements to private property. He said school custodians have been sent down to work on the parking lot. "We can get donations from other groups (for any further work)," he said. "That land is not under our jurisdiction. It's not our property. We are not to spend town funds on that property."

Pojani said the school committee has been maintaining that property. "Mr. Windle expects us to take care of it," she said.

"We have to be extra careful," Hanratty said, "and not send custodians down there to work. If Mr. Windle wants to include that area in the next lease negotiation, fine."

Pojani then asked about extra monies from the donations "in an account." Pierce said there is no account. "There is no cash except what the Little League and Lions Club donated," she said, "and that went to Granger." The total funds to be donated are $3500 and the contract with Granger was for $3150. "There may be some money left over," Pierce said. "I'll talk to them (the Little League and Lions Club)."

Health Insurance Deductions

Catherine Eager, representing Local 495 that includes custodians of the school department, was present to ask the committee to take action to resolve an issue of repaying custodians for a 10% deduction in their pay for health insurance. She said the issue has been passed back and forth between the selectmen and school committee. "We can't wait any longer with the passing back and forth of this hot potato," she said.

Hanratty said the committee will be talking to Administrative Assistant Earl Chase so that the deductions will be stopped and the 10% repaid.

Ad Hoc Committee

Wilczynski referred to a report submitted by MTA President Tom Murray at the last meeting addressing the issue of sex discrimination. He said an ad hoc committee is being suggested by the school committee to address the issue. The committee would be made up of two school committee members and a teacher at each level to look into teachers' concerns, independent of the superintendent's office and the school committee.

Assistant Superintendent Richard Palermo said he would be comfortable setting up a committee and working with the members. Sylvia said the only hindrance to Palermo might be his position as assistant superintendent.

Wilczynski said he saw no problem as long as he didn't talk to the superintendent about the discussions.

"He will have complete independence," Sylvia said.

Resignations

The following resignations were accepted with regret: Margaret Gillette Gaucher and Edna Kotomski.

Laurie Boberg resigned her position as team leader for grade 8 because of her expanded role as an advisor in an extra curricular activity.

Transfer of Funds

Pierce asked the committee to approve a request for money transfers amounting to $48,000 to reduce deficits in four accounts: lights, equipment, computer maintenance, and the overtime account for custodians which amounts to $12,000. The committee expressed concern with the amount of overtime. Pierce said it was due to the amount of absenteeism on the night shift. The committee unanimously approved the transfer.

The committee moved to executive session to discuss strategy relating to collective bargaining.

mined by the Building Inspector to be functionally equivalent to that required for separate lots by the Planning Board under its Subdivision Regulations."

{The Chronicle has found that the first mention of amending Section 32.6 came up in a public hearing on a proposal from Forrow Builders for a special permit for multi-family dwellings at 110 Millbury Avenue. At that hearing, Millbury resident Richard Taft asked the planning board for their interpretation of Section 32.6 and "whether its intent is to allow multi-family dwellings or not."

The minutes of that hearing show Chairman Fitzpatrick stating that the Board had discussed this at the last meeting [the Chronicle could find no reference to any discussion on this issue in the minutes of the previous meeting] and felt that there should be changes made in this particular bylaw (Sec. 32.6). "However, if this was changed to state 'no more than one residential dwelling' then this would not allow for condominium development."

Massapequa Tournament Champs

SUTTON - The Sutton Fuller Hamlet U13 girls walked away with the gold in an older U14 division of the 12th annual Memorial Day Soccer Tournament at Massapequa, Long Island. Sixteen parks with over 36 soccer fields were called into service as over 3,000 players from Canada, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the New England States invaded this scenic coastal area.

Precision passing and coordinated team effort were the hallmark of this talented Massachusetts team which outscored its opponents 13-1 while posting 4 shutouts in 5 games.

In its first game, the Hamlets took defending champions and local favorites by surprise. Massapequa Panthers watched as Emma Kurowski and Kris Gondek scored two goals apiece, assisting each other in the scoring. Defensive play of Marta Nagy, Sarah Ganias, Danielle McCaffrey, Molly Ahearn and Kathy Kerins, along with the superb goal tending of Amy Ostrowski throughout the series, held Massapequa scoreless.

Playing against White Plains in their 2nd contest, the girls turned play up a notch. Their passing game in full gear, the U13's kept the ball low and away from taller opponents. Forwards and midfielders shelled the net. Lindsay Peplar (2), Kurowski (2), and Cindy Garceau (1) all tallied goals assisted by Tracey Briggs, Nikki Salem, and Pam Neff. The score was 5-0.

A stiff wind stymied the players in game 3 against Farmingdale. The Hamlets' lone goal was scored off a corner kick. It was enough to ensure a third win as the game ended 1-0. Game 4 was decided within 15 minutes as teams matched play with Valley Stream of New York holding the short end of a 2-1 ball game. Emma K. and Lindsay Peplar scored for Sutton. In their final game, the Hamlets took on East Bay, R.I. and won 1-0.
